HARRISONBURG, VA., October 25.—
David Reid, the aged Confederate veteran, who on October 2 shot and killed Prince Lilly, has been arrested. The dead man's father, C. C. Lilly, applied for the warrant. The victim of the tragedy was in a chestnut tree gathering chestnuts. Reid, who was in the mountains, arrived ou the scene, and, thinking it was a bear shaking the branches of the tree, raised his gun and fired. Lilly fell from the tree at Reid's feet and died in a few minutes. Horrifled at his mistake, the old man turned the gun upon himself and was just about to fire the other load into his own breast when a relative of Lilly snatched the gun from his hands. Since the shooting Reid has constantly brooded over the affair.

There was no eyewitness to the shooting. Goldie Lilly, a cousin of the dead man, was a short distance away, and rushed to the scene when he heard the shot. At present he is in Ohio, but will return for the trial.

representation twenty-four.

At the last national convention there were 979 accredited delegates. With this reduced by eighty-nine, the representation at the next convention will be 890. The total Republican vote cast at the presidential election was 3,484,-956. Virginia cast 23,288 votes for Taft, the Republican candidate.

It is generally admitted that the old plan of representation was unfair. A Southern State with a small vote would have its two delegates from each congressional district, and its delegates at large. The Southern representation was almost large enough to dictate the policies of the convention and to hold the balance of power on the con-vention floor, while at the polls it could be counted on to do little, and, as a matter of fact, did not actually de-liver a vote in the electoral college.

Annual Call for Contributions.

Donation day for the Virginia Home for Incurables, the only institution of its kind in the State, will be held on Wednesday, Mrs. John Murphy, president of the board of managers of the home, has issued an earnest appeal for the public aid, calling attention to the fact that the high price of commodities has seriously embarrassed the institution. The home is supported entirely by charity, and is dependent for its continued existence on the generosity of the Richmond public.

Of all the eleemosynary institutions in the State none is considered more deserving of public aid than the Virginia Home for Incurables. Benepth its roof incurable cripples find shelter and comfort for life.

All gifts of money, linen and provisions will be welcome to the women's committee which will be in charge on Wednesday. The appeal is made but once a year, and the committee trusts that the Richmond people will be as generous as they have been in times past.
